

WHAT COMES NEXT

RACISM IMMIGRATION AND CITIZENSHIP AFTER AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Over the past half-century, historically white universities have experimented with diversifying their student and faculty bodies within the U. S. Supreme Court's increasingly narrow definition of affirmative action.

In 2023, the Court ended the diversity regime it had created. Now, universities must ask:

What comes next?

N. D. B. CONNOLLY
SHEHARYAR IMRAN
NATALIE WANG

Thursday,
September 14
5pm-7pm

Clipper Room
Shriver Hall
Homewood Campus