

Failing Up and Doubling Down with Global Food Security

Dr. Michelle Jurkovich

Associate Professor of Political Science
University of Massachusetts Boston

Wednesday Feb. 7

4:00 - 5:30pm

Hopkins Bloomberg Center (HBC)
555 Pennsylvania Ave. - Room B230

YOUNG D.C. ALUMNI
NETWORKING SESSION &
ALUMNI PANEL TO FOLLOW

Despite over seventy years of international collaboration, two UN organizations tasked with its amelioration, thousands of NGOs and INGOs, and countless academic experts, we continue to fail, mightily, at efforts to achieve global hunger targets. In this talk, Dr. Jurkovich turns a critical eye to this issue, arguing that academics and practitioners must work together to get on-track with anti-hunger goals.