

Introduction to Education Research Workshop

JUNE 3 - 6, 2024

HYBRID [IN-PERSON @ JHU HOMEWOOD CAMPUS & VIRTUAL VIA ZOOM]

Join a supportive, communal, & judgment-free environment where you can explore and expand your innovative ideas relating to education and education research!

For faculty, staff, postdocs, and graduate students @ Johns Hopkins & beyond

Fee: $400. Tuition Remission available for JHU full-time faculty & staff. Limited scholarships available for JHU graduate students or part-time lecturers/staff.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Describe research approaches in education.
- Summarize best practices in quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods research.
- Reflect on one's identities and background, and how they inform one's researcher positionally.
- Discuss ethical and inclusive strategies for engaging with diverse stakeholders.
- Perform hands-on activities for designing, collecting, and analyzing qualitative and quantitative data.
- Develop a working purpose statement for research study of interest.

SCHEDULE

June 3rd, Monday

9:15 am - 12:15 pm | Introduction
Education Research; Ethics; Researcher Positionality
Guest Speaker: Kelleen Maluski [Trauma-informed care expert]

June 4th, Tuesday

9:15 am - 12:15 pm | Qualitative Research
1:15 - 4:15 pm | Hands-on: Interviews & Observations + Analysis

June 5th, Wednesday

9:15 am - 12:15 pm | Quantitative Research
Guest Speaker: Deana Jaber [Professor of Chemistry]
1:15 - 4:15 pm | Hands-on: Surveys + Analysis

June 6th, Thursday

9:15 am - 12:15 pm | Wrap-up
Mixed Methods Research; Library Resources
Guest Speaker: Joanne Helouvry [JHU Sheridan Librarian]