

Advancing Value-Based Care:

A Bipartisan Dialogue on Health Equity and Innovation

Join Dean Sarah Szanton and four former CMS Administrators to share bipartisan perspectives on improving value-based care and approaching health policy in a way that is equitable for all Americans. The panelists will discuss their shared views and different opinions on health policy, Medicare, and Medicaid. They will reflect on how changes in Presidential administrations affect health policy and regulation, look at the results of value-based payment and care methods over the last ten years, and explore practical, scalable, long-term strategies to enhance community health.
