

The Students of
The Human Genetics & Genomics Graduate
Program and The McKusick-Nathans
Department of Genetic Medicine
Present:

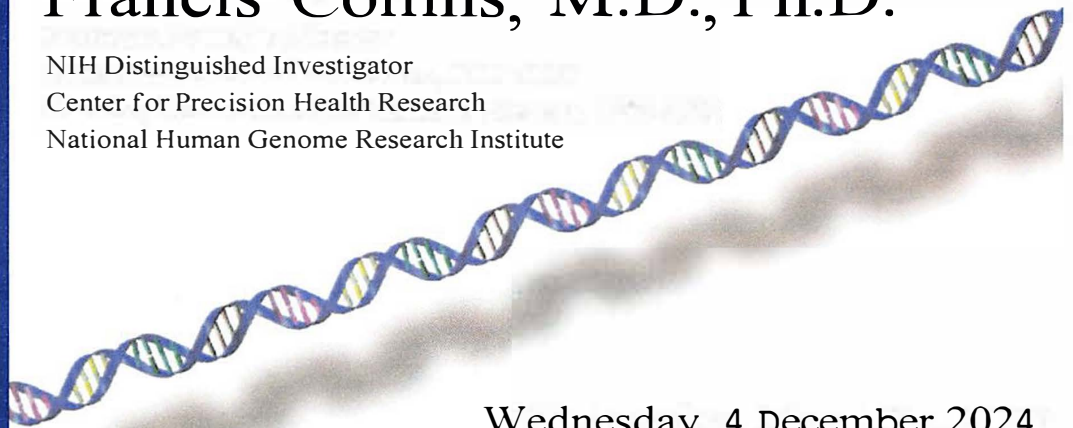

The 19th Annual Barton Childs Lecture

"Could In Vivo Gene Editing be a Scalable Solution for Thousands of Rare Genetic Diseases?"

Francis Collins, M.D., Ph.D.

NIH Distinguished Investigator
Center for Precision Health Research
National Human Genome Research Institute

Wednesday, 4 December 2024

Mountcastle Auditorium

2:00 PM

McKusick-Nathans
Department of
Genetic Medicine

