Join us for our first ever Design-Thinking Conference!

Saturday, March 29th
9:00a - 3:00p ET

Hosted at
Johns Hopkins University
Harbor East Campus

The conference will bring together students, educators, industry professionals, and design enthusiasts to explore innovative solutions for local and global challenges using the design-thinking process.

Our focus is to empower participants through a hands-on design sprint, speaker and panel sessions, and networking. Themes include data-driven culture, social impact, and emerging technology.

Registration now open!
