

FIGHTING TO BREATHE

A Hop Talks Book Discussion
with Author Dr. Fabricant

Thursday, April 17 from 6:00pm-8:00pm
@ The Imagine Center

Open to the Hopkins community. Dinner will be served; registration highly encouraged.

Hop Talks invites the Hopkins community to engage in meaningful dialogue on critical issues. This series is designed to foster respectful and insightful conversations, encouraging students to explore different perspectives and deepen their understanding of important topics.

Join us for a follow up discussion with Author Nicole Fabricant on her book Fighting to Breathe: Race, Toxicity, and the Rise of Youth Activism in Baltimore by Nicole Fabricant.

REGISTER
HERE

Presented by:

- Center for Social Concern
- Office of Climate & Sustainability

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY