

HELENA HICKS EMANCIPATION SCHOOL SPRING 2022 SPEAKER SERIES

The Helena Hicks Emancipation School of the Billie Holiday Center for Liberation Arts brings the topics, questions, and methods of Black Studies out of the “Ivory Tower” and into the places of its origin – the community schools, organizations, cultural centers and houses of worship that nurtured 20th century black social movements.

Alongside our community partners, we are pleased to present 4 mini-courses involving a virtual 40-minute presentation and a 20-minute Q&A session.

For more information & to register for this FREE virtual series visit the link or scan the QR Code:

<https://jhjhm.zoom.us/webinar/register/HHES>

Minkah Makalani

April 6, 7:00pm EST

Worlds of Hip-Hop:
A Black Art Form in Evolution

Jasmine
Blanks Jones

April 13, 7:00pm EST

Black Theater as Liberatory
Education

Sasha
Turner

May 4, 7:00pm EST

Gender, Race, and Medicine in Historical Perspective

Richard Lofton

May 11, 7:00pm EST

School-to-Prison
Pipeline in Baltimore: What can be done?

Event partners: JHU Black Alumni Association, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Union Baptist Church, Sharp Street United Methodist Church, and Saint James African Episcopal Church