

SECULARISM AND ITS DISCONTENTS

Religious Liberty in France and the United States

France and the United States are both democracies committed to a separation of church and state. How they achieve that separation, however, differs greatly. Join the SNF Agora Institute for a pair of discussions exploring what their distinct approaches mean for notions of citizenship and belonging in deeply plural societies.

Tuesday, November 9

7 to 8 p.m. ET

Free, online event

For speakers and information visit:
bit.ly/Secularism-and-Its-Discontents

